

Dear EHA accredited course students,

Greetings from Environmental Health Australia! We hope you have settled into your second semester.

World Environmental Health Day (WEHD) is on the 26th of September and to celebrate, EHA is once again organising a competition for environmental health students in EHA accredited courses. This year's theme is 'GLOBAL ENVIRONMENTAL PUBLIC HEALTH: STANDING UP TO PROTECT EVERYONE'S HEALTH EACH AND EVERY DAY'.

More information about this year's IFEH theme can be seen on the IFEH website;

<https://www.ifeh.org/wehd/>

For this year's competition, EHA is asking students to highlight how environmental health is crucial to public health on a global scale. You are encouraged to focus on a specific aspect of environmental health and explain how it interconnects with other areas of public health.

It is important to note that any posters submitted to this competition are also eligible to be submitted by students into the IFEH International Congress on Environmental Health being held in Perth next May.

To participate in this competition, you will be required to create one of the following;

- A report of no more than 1,000 words
- A scientific poster
- A short video of not more than 1 minute
- A poem
- A collage

Please submit all entries to samantha.smith@eh.org.au by midnight (EST) on the 19th of September 2023 and be sure to read the submission guidelines on the back of this document carefully before submitting. Winners will be announced on the 26th of September via the EHA social media channels and through direct email.

The overall winner will be invited to attend their local State Conference, or the IFEH World Congress with EHA covering registration costs*. Submission will also be featured in the EHA National Newsletter, on EHA social media channels and submitted to The International Federation of Environmental Health to be featured on their WEHD website page.

Please note major prize winner will be required to arrange their own flights and accommodation. Students are responsible for submitting any posters to the IFEH World Congress competition.*

The winning submission from each university will be showcased in their local states EHA newsletter, on EHA social media channels and receive an EHA prize pack.
